Group Technology — Strategy Delivery

Ecobank · Ghana

Re: Senior Strategy Delivery Analyst

Dear Hiring Team,

I am applying for the Senior Strategy Delivery Analyst role in Group Technology at Ecobank. With 9+ years supporting IT solutions delivery, stakeholder coordination, and performance reporting across financial, telecom, and critical-infrastructure environments, I am motivated to help execute technology strategy that delivers measurable value across the Group. My background includes regulated financial-sector technology operations at Bank of Ghana (FICSOC), multi-country delivery across Ghana, Nigeria, and Tanzania, and analytics-driven tracking of initiatives, risks, and compliance outcomes.

In my current role with Virtual InfoSec Africa at Bank of Ghana (FICSOC), I support technology initiative execution by coordinating tool and application integrations, managing vendor and contractor delivery timelines, and producing reports that support performance review and continuous improvement. I collaborate with technical and operational stakeholders during escalations, track trends to identify improvement opportunities, and help ensure deployments are completed with clear follow-through in a high-assurance financial environment.

At Sophies Group, I delivered programs across multiple African markets and produced executive-ready reports and remediation plans to support stakeholder decision-making and follow-through. I also supported migration readiness and facilitated engagement through training for 60+ staff. At Helios Towers Ghana, I generated analytics across 500+ sites and developed risk and compliance trackers for operational reviews. Earlier IT support roles at GRIDCo and the Volta River Authority strengthened my ability to connect technology delivery with business continuity and user needs.

I am drawn to this role's focus on strategy execution, PMO collaboration, stakeholder engagement, performance management, and benefits realization. I bring strong communication skills, experience coordinating initiatives in matrix and multi-country settings, and a disciplined approach to risk evaluation and remediation. I would welcome the opportunity to contribute to Ecobank's technology strategy delivery agenda.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Richard Kwame Appiah
